

Shopping mall

The objective:

For your child to recognize print in the environment and use it to explore the world

For your child to begin to understand very basic economics: how and where we buy the things we want or need

Suggested activities:

Play "I Spy": ask your child to help you find different pictures or words in the mall (first point out the picture or word and read it aloud, also spelling it for older little ones)

Discuss where different wares come from and how they got here

Questions to ask:

Where is a store that sells clothes?

Can you show me a store we can eat at?

Can you show me where we can play?

Who gets our money?

Vocabulary words:

stores
shopping
the names of various stores and products
